The Doctor and his companions were, of course, greatly astonished on learning the grossly exaggerated statements of the fight at Ivy Mountain sent from Paris and Lexington, and wonder the misrepersoniations were not the other way, as a frightened soldier threw down his musket and ran back several miles, reporting that Col. Marshali's regiment was cut to pieces, and that General Nelson himself had been killed.

The march of a portion of our troops the day before the fight is described as one of the most fatiguing of the war. A battalion of Col. Marshali's regiment, to which was temponally attached a portion of the Second Ohlo, marched lalirly-two miles over an exceedingly rough country, the roade, a large portion of the way, being from sakle-deep to knee deep with mud, and during the day forded Red river, a tornous little stream, no less than sightly-stream time. They will be ready, such is their hatred of all that is authority and invoke only the law of force; and so numerous and influential are they that the Ministry and innucious are they that the Ministry which is able to resist their appeals to the populace, must be strong indeed. We doubt not that the legal learning and the conservative spinion of England will, on depends as much upon popular opinion as pur own; and in England as well as in merica, the party which first resorts to the sword for the arbitrament of strife, is to be inculcated, that a war with the Unit-

The case belongs to lawyers of the broadest and most comprehensive learning in the principles and precedents of the international code; and to them and the international code; and to the international code; and the i is not that wise men in Great structive strife, but that their desire to effect settlement of the matter in dispute, upon ng taunts in which newspapers the principles which regulate comity of nations, are always tempted to indulge. Our Government, if we be lieve it competent to protect the common aterest and the national honor, must not e embarrassed by outside pressure com-elling it to this course or that. If on an examination of the authority upon which Commodore Wilkes's act is supposed to rest, it is found untenable and bad, no braving out the wrong must prevent the Government from making apology and restitution; and if it prove and that his seizure is justified by law and

THE CONVENTION AND THE CUBBENOT.

In our last article under this head we showed that, money being the measure of values, an increase in the amount of money in a nation or in the world, other things values, an increase in the amount of money in a nation or in the world, other things being equal, causes an increase in the prices of labor, and all articles of barter and sale almost always growling about the movement of the precious metals to England, and crying for means to stop it. Just prices of labor, and an articles of solution of the volume of money brings about a corresponding decrease in those prices. It is by all means desirable that stability should characterize the business of a country—that the prices of labor, merchandise, breadstuffs, houses and plans for the feture with some degree of certainty. There will of course be fluc-tuations in the prices of particular things caused by differences in supply and de-mand. These it is impossible to guard sgainst, but it rarely happens that such fluctuations affect the nation at large, or raused by differences in supply and demand. These it is impossible to guard against, but it rarely happens that such fluctuations affect the nation at large, or indeed the mass of people in any particular section. If foreign advices raise the price of wheat, the consumer of wheat at home suffers in that degree, but his neighbor the producer loses, but his neighbor the consumer gains. Not so with the fluctuations caused by the rising and falling of the wave of money. When the banks issue largely and swell the volume of the circulating medium, all prices go up, and people fancy they are worth a great deal more than they make any when the banks ince, and clearly comes within the prohibition, which is in the following terms, in article V, section 10: caused by the rising and falling of the wave of money. When the banks issue largely and swell the volume of the circulating medium, all prices go up, and people fancy they are worth a great deal more than they really are, and when the banks, upon any sudden alarm, draw their volumes of currency back from business channels, all prices come down again with a thump. Then we have what we call a thump. a thump. Then we have what we call a penic. Those who owe considerable sums debts contracted on the hypothesis that orth, or a barrel of flour, represented fiv cloth, or a barrel of flour, represented five dollars. How can they pay when the yard of cloth, or the barrel of flour, represent only four dollars? When they fall, the chances are that their creditors fail too, ling all around. Then rich poor, and poor people are gent than Mr. Remminger's Pescoling. The state of the Memphis market, as reported in the Appeal of the 9th inst, goes far to confirm his views. The Appeal says: "The sales recorded on the books "were 880 bushels prime red wheat at "$2.10; 80 barrels country extra flour at "11.25 per barrel"—and these enormous prices exist in the face of an abundant harvest, unless the rebel journals have greatly belied their own crops. The truth undoubtedly is that Mr. Memminger's hundred millions of tressury notes added to the circulating medium, and the expansion of the banks facilitated by the suspension of specie payments, have "ballooned" the bale and comfidence to a decree which tes will open the ports of the South and secure a supply of cotton, for which three millions of operatives suffer, and open a market among eight millions of and, and crying for means to stop it. Just now the movement is in the opposite direction, because an unnatural state of things has supervened. War has broken out and we have all gone to economizing. We have measurably ceased importing foreign goods, while we are continuing to export our breadstuffs and provisions as usual. When peace returns the old drain will recommence and go on to the end of will recommence and go on to the end of the chapter, if we continue to maltreat our money as formerly.

Kinstry have not been made public. The order came from Washington to hold McKinstry under arrest till further orders. He is rot in close configement, that is, confined to a building, but roams about the arsenal grounds, inside the entry lines, at pleasure. It is like ly that when the specifications are made known in his case, that the list will be per levely satoutshing. The attempt is made to about that Fremont had nothing to do with McKinstry, but it is not successful. He had Fremonts ear from the firstiday of Fremont's arrival in this city. It was by Fremont's order that McKinstry was made Provost Marshal—a position which might be correctly used for his own personal aggrandisment, if he was so inclined, almost without fear of detection. McKinstry was made Provost Marshal—a position of the forts; nor had be the right to order anything without a requisition. Indeed, collusion between Fremout and McKinstry was as easy as rolling off a leg, and there was nothing to prevent them from combining to defraud. Before the close of the year it will be made to appear whether there was any actual collusion. McKinstry's friends are confident he will come out unacathed. They say that his operations cover such an extensive interest that it will be impossible to convict him of dishonesty without implicating many others in high places.

One of the best practical jekes of the season was recently played on the New York Herald, probably through inadvertence. It tursed out an expensive one, too, and few pacers would quietly submit to it. The N. Y. Tribuse had a narrow escape from a similarly expensive accident. Mr. Knox, the Syringfield correspond not of the Herald, and Mr. Richardson of the New York Tribuse, on the 4th inst. enclosed their correspondence in ordinary on-viopes, sealed them up and directed them by mall, under Owea Lovejoy's frank. These packages they gave to the army courier law, in signification, in the telegraphed as few as El. Lovila, and the courier nanaged, in some unexplained way, to get the letters in the te

The decision of the United States Senate, in Judge Trumbull's case, was that a State Constitution could not prescribe the qualifications of an officer of the United States, and that all State provisions seek-ing to define the qualifications of United States Senators, were null and void. Inas-much as Judge O'Melyeny is not chosen to fill a United States office, it is obvious that the clause we have quoted stands in full force against his right to take the seat. This, we imagine, will be sufficient reason This, we imagine, will be sufficient reason for showing Mr. O'Meiveny the outside of the State House, but there are other reasons why he should not be permitted to sit in the Convention. He has been making secession speeches nearly all summer, and was elected on a secession platform, in a district which is believed to hold some 5,000 Knights of the Golden Circle, whose treasonable doings recently called for the might have known that it was a trap set for him by the rebel General. The mere fact that it was the proposition of Price should have excited his suspicions, but like Gen. Harney, he moved into the net, and with one dash of the pen, virtually pledged himself to provent every Union man in Missouri from panishing a secesh outrage, no matter how serious the offence. This pledge to bind the Unionists of this State to inaction was all the robels desired. Under its protection Price's men might return to their homes to morrow, and a week hence concentrate and desolate our homes. Fortunately, Gen. Hunter as with tendency of such a pledge, and promptly cancelled the compact. Now there is nothing to prevent our friends from combining and arming for mutual protection. The effect of this obligation upon the secesh may be judged by the fact that in less three days after the so-called "Pacification Proclamation" had been issued, a party of accoundreds in the secesh interest had sawed three ties in half and carried off four telegraph poles along the Hannibal and St. Jo railroad, thereby endangering the lives of honcent passengers and delaying communication between California and New York. for the cultivation of any crops except grapes and other fruits, which flourish abundantly wherever cultivated.

The climate is mild and the winters short; extile riving through the winter with little or no care in the timber of districts.

We would call the attention of our laddes to the wants of Oapt. Wood's Rangers. They are unprovided with comfortable clothing for the winter, such as woolen drawars, stockings and comforts for the sick. These men are do ing a service to the Union which we had no right to expect from poor afflicted Kansas. They impose ardone tasks upon themselves, often riding thirty miles before breaktast and going at the rate of sury miles a day without alonging the rate of sury miles a day without alonging the rate of sury miles a day without alonging the rate of sury miles a day without alonging the rate of sury miles a day without along the continuous of immense service in gnerilla warsine, which will be the warfare in Missourt the coming winter. The company is made up of bold, daring, dashing fellows. We found Capt. Wood to be a gentleman of highly cultivated mind, good moral sensibility and religious inclination, which we ascribe to his early associations and training by a Quaker mother. We have reason to know somewing of his gallantry, for in our attempts to resist Springfield in titted us out with horses, carriage, a ranger for driver and agand of monatted rangers as an escort.

We came up with Col. Boyd's regiment at the Gaucorace and assisted them in crossing the river by the loan of our carriage, as the water was a deep that it was impossible for has been continual sickness and a long confirement in one of our army hespitals in this city—Baltimore. My short residence here has, I must confess, worked an entire revolution in my mind in one respect, and what I once imagined to be a city identified with the Ping Ugly mebs and Blood Tub riots, and associated with saught save defiance to laws and server to passing strangers, I now behold it in its true Fight as the home of much generosity, Christian charity, and many uncompromising Usion eithems. Contral Iowa.

(Correspondence of the Chicago Tribuna.)

Nawron, Iowa, Nov. 14, 1861.

The county seat of Jasper county is a thriving little town of some 1,500 inhabitants, or New England and New England characteristics. It is attended on the line of the Missile. New England and New England Characterstics. It is aituated on the line of the Mississippi and Missouri Railroad, about 140 miles west of Davenport, and 35 miles east of Des Moines, the capital of the State.

Jasper county is the oldest estiled county in Central Iowa, and one of the richest and dollars per cord. Coal is found here in great abundance, is of excellent quality, and sells at your door at from aix to eight cents per bushel. The north and south branches of the Skunk river pass through this county, which, together with their numerous branches, leaves no lack of water not only for slock purposes, but also affording some execlient mill privibut also affording some exectiont mitt privaleges.

For stock raising, wool growing, and agricultural purposes generally, Jasper county is unexcelled. Several hundred absect have already been imported into this county, from Michigan.

Besides these excellent qualities of Jasper county, its citizens are loyal and true to the Union. Aiready two military companies are in the field of conflict in Missouri, and two more now in Camp McClellan, besides parts of other companies, have been filled up home this county.

are in the field of coeffict in Missouri, and two more now in Camp McCleilan, besides parts of other companies, have been filled up from this county.

The Hitnois and Mississippl Telegraph Company are now constructing their into of telegraph from Davenport to Council Bindia, to interact the great Pacific line to San Francisco. The work is now ready for the wire from Council Bindia to Dec Mothes, and the entire line is to be completed by the Star of Davenber next, as I am informed by the Superincendent, Mr., E. D. I. Sweet, of Chicago, who is now here.

The Mississippi & Missouri Ratiroad—which is a continuation of the Caucago & Rock lining road—have extended their track to Victor, Is miles west of Marengo, its present terminus, and the cars are to be running to that point in about ten days. This point has 100 miles west of Davenport. This road now extends into Central Iows farther than any other-and it is the intention of the company to plant toward to the capital as rapidly as possible. It is on the line of the great central thorough fare to the Pacific, over which the California oversiand mails now peas. The other day, a large mail sack passed through here, upon which was marked, "From London, Eng., to San Francisco, California." This sack of mail unster was doubtless made up in Europe, and came circet by way of New York.

The M. & M. Railroad is doing a good business particularly in the way of shipping stock. Large shipments of cattle and hoge stock.

came direct by way of New York.

The M. & M. Railroad is doing a good bust ness particularly in the way of shippin stock. Large shipments of estite and hog are daily being made over this line to Rastor markets. This route takes the preference it that particular from the fact that when stock ern market.

Truly Central Iowa furnishes one of the frust ficles for the agriculturist and stock raiser of any in the State, and Iowa is not to be excelled.

Slaves Building Forts,
The forts which our feet took at Port Royal, South Carolina, were built by slaves. One of them, Fort Walker, occupied the libor of 1,000 negroes for three months to buildin. It is a very strong fort, built in the most approved style of modern earthwork fortifications. It was surrounded by a ditch fifteen feet wide, by ten deep and picketed throughout. In the ditches on the seastde and the points on the bastions were stockades for sheltering sharp shooters.

By the act of Congress passed at the extra ression, every slave employed in building this fort is confiscited from the rebel master, and emancipated. Pro-slavery sheets like the Chieago Those and Journal and New York Herald, have not a word to say against the rebels employing their alayes to build forts, or even to man them, but they how! dismaily at the bare thought of the Government feeding these

My Dran Uncle—Since the receipt of your last favor we have been in such confuscion, uncertainty and incessant occupation, so far as I am concerned, that I have not given your letter that attention which it deserved, and, is fact, the only thing in it that I now remember is the caution "to write at once."

You have read, perhaps, in the papers the attempt General Lee made to capture Union loroes about Chest Mountain, and how he had to fall back. Well, our origade played an important part in that little affair, and and I time to give you the particulare of that supprofitable stitumpt, I could fill numerous pages, but my time does not admit. It was a beautimi programme Lee and Levering got up and set $500.000 of the new 7 50-100 United States Loan for ale in summ of $50, $100, $1,000 and $0,000 Notes, with ble picture of the sufferings of the rebels in Satterice, Wells & Faulkner Case on hand and to Bank and it hands Established in 1844. CAUGHT AT LAW.—Our readers will recoled the announcement made a few weeks since of the robbesy from the store of H. I. Ridd, No. 35 Lake street, of a quantity of silks, dress patterns, needles, plan, pencils, cic., sufficient to set up a traveling merchant in business. This event occurred about ten days ago. Since that time the police have been very active in following the footsteps of one Charles McCamley, who was suspected of having committed the robbery. The case having been brought to a forms, the man was arrested on Menday and a portion of the property found in his possession. The goods were readily identified, and McCamley was held in default of $500 ball, yesterday morning, after an examination before the Recorder's Court.

By the courtesy of the Coroner of this Cousty, we have been put in possession of the number of inquests held during his official year, ending Nov. 18th, 1861, together with other data of interest, which we present oelow. The following is the number of in-

The above gives a total of 173 inquests for the year compared with 177 for 1860, and 163 for 1850. Three of the cases of suicide were caused by insanity, three by intoxication, no cause being assigned in the other cases.

The deaths by violence are as follows

Of the number of inquests occasioned by drowning, railroad accidents, violence and suicides, fully fifty per cent of them occurred while the victims were in a state of intoxicawhile the richins were in sake of inhorder-tion. The same has been true in former years. Intoxicating liquor is the prime cause of most of the deaths, either directly or indi-rectly, which the Coroner is called upon to investigate during the year. Under its influ-ence men are seleed with delirium and die terrible deaths; some, tottering with insanity, fill suicides graves; some stauble into the river and drown helplessly; some sleep upon railroad tracks never to wake. In every way,

SUDDEN DEATH OF A WELL KNOWN CHARthe extreme shortness of one of whose legs gave him a peculiar swaggering motion, as he waddled rather than walked to and from his boarding house and his place of business. His gait was at any time crooked enough, but when he got on an extra supply of whisky-which he was in the habit of doing-it was pos which he was in the habit of doing—it was poe itively awful, and sure to attract the attention of all pedestrians. One leg was eight inches aborier than its mate, and upon such uncer-tain supports his body pitched like a small craft in a heavy sea. There are nine Episcopal churches in this city, fourteen clergymen and twelve congregations—not including Hyde Park and Lake View, at both of which places stated preaching has been kept up. The number of families belonging to these churches is 739; number of persons, 3,023; baptized in year ending with September 20th, 217; confirmed, 64; number of communicants, 888; scholars in Sunday Schools, 1,150; teachers, 146; amount contributed for all purposes, $400,161.00.

Change of Tactics.—The Justices of the Police Court have lately decided to change their course towards customers, whose time for years has been spent peasing from the Armory to the Bridewell directly to the Armory again, on charges of vagrancy, drunkenness, disorderly conduct, and others of a like character. Hereafter, instead of taking the trouble of santeneing and re-sentencing them five or six times in a year, the defendants are to be sent up to the stone-breaking institution for the iull term allowed by the law. A notable instance of the widely extended influence of ballad music, is the well known "Shining Shore," composed by Geo. F. Root, Esq., of this city. It was a mere fragment, thrown off in haste, and hardly deemed worthy, by the author, of publication. And yet to-day that song, made only a short time since, has traveled the world. With the regiments on the banks of the Potomac it is a favorite huma, and is often heard floating out. ments on the banks of the Potomac it is a favorite hymn, and is often heard floating out on the night air from rough male voices, a reminder of home and its most sacred associations. BAILWAY MATTERS. A THROUGH LINE RAILWAY FROM WASHING-TON TO NEW TORE.—A deputation waited up on the Mayor of Washington and the Post-master General on Thursday last, relative to 3.00—the great bulk of sales being at $1.75@3.90. Beef Cattle were quiet.

Freights were quiet but firm, with engagements at I'M for corn, and ise for wheat to Baflish a through railway route from Washington lish a through railway route from washington to New York. The deputation comprised Ges. Peter Force, Alderman Senames, George Lowrey, Pliny Miles, Hadson Taylor, Mr. Perry, and others. The Mayor and Postmaster General sympathized entirely with the movement, and promised to give it their aid. The deputation stated that the citizens of Wash issurance companies will take risks on the lakes, except at special rates. ington were paying out tens of thousands of dollars and the Government hundreds of thou-sands weekly for the sole reason that Phila-delphia and Baltimore have insisted on a gap and a delay on this railway communication with the North. Nothing but Congress could crush this peralcious influence.

NEW FREIGHT LINE FROM NEW YORK TO Washington.—On Monday last a new freight route was opened from New York to Washing-ton, for the transportation of munitions of war, Government stores, sutlers' supplies for the army, and such other miscellaneous freight as may offer. Goods by the new line go to Harriaburgh by the New Jersey Central Rallway, and there connect with other roads to Washington without change of cars or breaking bulk. The route offers other advantages,

The New Party Million Issue.

(From the New York Herald, Nov. 16.)

We have the pleasure to annonnee that Mr. Chase's negotiation with the banks was brought to a most satisfactory close restorday afternoon, and that an arrangement was arrived at Such is seemed equally advantageous to the banks and to the Government. The committee of the associated banks agreed to recommend to the institutions which they represent to take $50,000,000 of the party of the seemed equally advantageous to take $50,000,000 of six per cents at such a price as will give the holder precisely seeven per cent for his money. The committee further recommend that the option now held by the banks of taking the third fifty million of 1.50 this the Secretary of the Pressury agrees. A meeting of the associated banks will be held to morrow (saturday) at one p. m. to take the report of the committee into consideration, and it is taken for grasted that it will be ratified.

Mr. Chase may be congratulated on the encoses of the secretary of the associated banks will be held to morrow (saturday) at one p. m. to take the report of the committee into consideration, and it is taken for grasted that it will be ratified.

Mr. Chase may be congratulated on the encoses of the whole fifty millions will be placed to his credit as soon as the associated banks have confirmed the eport of the committee. It is usual in Europe, when large government beam are negotiated, to according to the European rule. In order to make the customary profit on the transaction, the associated banks must sell their sixes not below 60%; and this, we presume, will be the premium rate adopted by them. We are informed that none of the second of such as immunity from delay from ice or blockade. The enterprise is under the super. Intendence of Col. Hope, of the Hope Express Company.

FREIGHT ON THE NEW YORK CENTRAL.—The Syracuse Journal says or ers have been issued to way freight agents on the Central railroad loads a survive service for the Vest for the to losd no empty cars for the East for the nextten days; whenever empty cars are found they are immediately to be sent West. Grain is crowding forward in immense quantities, and all the facilities of railroad and canal and all the facilities of railroad and canal transportation are taxed to the utmost to move it to the seaboard.

Pittersurson, Fort Watke and Chicaso—The Following changes have been made in the organization of the Passenger Departmen of the Pittaburgh, Foat Wayne and Chicago Railway:—Wm. P. Shinn has been appointed General Passenger Agent, office as heresofore. Dan. W. Boas, Northwestern Passenger Agent, headquarters at Milwaukee. B. F. Patrick, Bouthwestern Passenger Agent, headquarters at Chicago. A. Holliday, Ticket Agent at Chicago.
